But if the tutor is not there when and where you need them most, (normally every night around homework time), or when the frequency of their involvement becomes expensive, (especially if the need for tutoring involves more than just one student in the household), it's then a case of "Houston... we have a problem."

---

Feature: Being prepared for a Military Entrance Exam is paramount if the soon to be soldier wants more freedom of choice in the job acquired.

Benefit: Many students upon leaving high school find the military to be a logical employment choice to gain both marketable skills and to further their education. The secret here is to gain an edge, attain the highest score possible in the pre-enlistment testing, to ensure a greater option of military specialties to chose from, and possibly enter with a higher rank.

Feature: KwikNotes makes it easy to prepare to re-enter school, or the job market.

Benefit: Preparation to re-enter school or the job market is a competitive process and requires “knowledge.” While acquiring knowledge is a life long process, recalling it, (when and where you need it most), certainly becomes the challenge. KwikNotes will assist you in remembering things like “how to compute interest rates, find percents, understand basic computer terminology and concepts (e.g. floppy drive, graphics software, microprocessor, RAM, etc.), apply punctuation, grammar, and spelling rules correctly, and so on.

Feature: Pocket Professor levels the playing field for the student who’s class is overcrowded.

Benefit: The Pocket Professor becomes an extension of the instructor by helping to fill the gap in crowded classrooms where the student/teacher ratio might not be optimum. In this sense the KwikNotes can help to significantly reduce the survival-of-the-fittest competition for the instructor’s attention.
